Our Mission

To improve the quality of life for people affected by breast cancer through education, lifestyle modification, and holistic healing.

Survivorship begins at diagnosis. It is important to understand where there are opportunities for improvement in the patient's cancer journey.

Education

In the area of education, we concentrate on both patient and physician education. We offer a 32-page Think Pink/Live Green pamphlet and a VIVER Pocket Health Guide to Reduce Your Risk of Cancer. We provide education to the physicians and teach a Survivorship Experience Program to breast surgeons and surgical oncologists every year.

Lifestyle Modification

For lifestyle modification, we offer four group fitness programs, three group wellness programs, four workshops, two retreats and run five support groups for over 800 men and women on an annual basis.

Holistic Healing

In the area of holistic healing, every breast cancer patient receives five complimentary Healing Certificates to use for integrative healing therapies. These integrative healing services have been in existence for thousands of years and have documented benefits.
